

|                                                                                                                                                        |    |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| Rosh Hashanah 5731; King David's Last Prayer; 'Three-Year-Old Calf;' 'For with Us is God!;' 'To Increase Learning is to Increase Heartache' – ANS..... | 1  |
| An Orphan Stands by Kineret (poem) – Shmuel White.....                                                                                                 | 10 |
| The Jewish Time Reckoning (essay) – Yakov Richtiger.....                                                                                               | 11 |
| My Mama (poem) – Y. H. Binenfeld.....                                                                                                                  | 14 |
| Another Prayer (poem) – Ella Zilberg.....                                                                                                              | 15 |
| On Leipzig Fair; Whitechapel Poems – A. N. Stencl.....                                                                                                 | 19 |
| Bless the Lord, O My Soul, Psalm 104 in Yiddish – Yehoash.....                                                                                         | 30 |
| Leo Koenig (obituary) – Isaac Goldberg.....                                                                                                            | 32 |
| Charles Dickens – Dovid Berman.....                                                                                                                    | 33 |
| 100 Years to Dickens; 100 Years to Yehoash; Till Hundred and Twenty – S[tenc]l.....                                                                    | 35 |
| Yiddish Theatre – Harry Ariel.....                                                                                                                     | 38 |
| The Sun Is Setting Nearby (poem) – Shimen Vizek.....                                                                                                   | 39 |
| A Ship Has Comes into Sight (poem) – Avrom Zak.....                                                                                                    | 39 |
| Music – Meir Bogdanksy.....                                                                                                                            | 40 |